UNO's Division of Business and Economic Research

The Division of Business and Economic Research, formed in 1963, is an integral part of the research effort of the College of Business Administration at the University of New Orleans. It serves as an interface between business and government leaders and college and university faculty. Major research efforts are currently underway in the areas of tourism, marketing, insurance, banking and finance, real estate, economics, accounting, data processing, and managing human resources.

The Research Division also maintains an extensive computerized data base on Louisiana's population and economy to serve the business community and state and local government as a resource information center, with tailor-made analyses for use in planning, policy making, and economic forecasting.

With the financial support of metro area banks, UNO's Research Division publishes and distributes the quarterly Louisiana Business Survey to 16,000 area business and government leaders. It also publishes the nationally recognized academic journal entitled the Review of Business and Economic Research.

The 1981 edition of the Statistical Abstract of Louisiana may be ordered from the Division of Business and Economic Research at the University of New Orleans. The price, $8.50 per issue, includes postage and handling.

Preface

From its first edition in 1965, the Statistical Abstract of Louisiana has collected into one volume the latest available numbers on many detailed aspects of the state and its planning districts, metropolitan areas, and parishes. The Abstract is a compendium of Louisiana statistics gathered from diverse sources, each of which is cited with each table. It is used by business people, politicians, administrators, educators, and many others interested in research and planning about Louisiana and within Louisiana.

The Louisiana Abstract is now a joint effort of the University of New Orleans and the Louisiana State Planning Office. For this seventh edition, in response to users, we have reorganized the sectors, added and deleted tables, produced an index, and computer typeset the tables. Users are encouraged to suggest additional changes – particularly additional material for inclusion in future editions.

The careful labor of many produced this edition. Special acknowledgement is made to Professors Gordon Saussy and Barry Render of UNO's Division of Business and Economic Research and to Professor Jesse M. Charlton, Jr., Dean of the Graduate School and Professor of Business Law. Recognition is due to the entire staff of the Division of Business and Economic Research. In particular, the tedious tasks of incorporating the latest statistics into existing tables and compiling new tables were performed by B. Renee Fox; computer files of all statistics were created by Maggie Babin, Bonnie Gaspard, Lori Vitrano, and Edmonia Martin; the proofreading was managed by Marcia Verret and Martha Aspillaga. The research efforts of the staff of the UNO Library, Government Documents Division, were greatly appreciated support.

THE LOUISIANA STATE PLANNING OFFICE

The Louisiana State Planning Office is involved with program and policy planning on both the state and local level. Its primary purpose is to evaluate government programs and plans so that the Governor and other state officials may make more effective decisions. Its library serves as a repository for all state plans. The State Data Center, which the State Planning Office serves as lead agency, provides essential data used in planning from a variety of sources. These data are available to the public.

The State Planning Office is part of the Office of the Governor and is composed of three divisions: the Louisiana Planning Information System (LPIS), Policy Planning, and Planning Services. LPIS is responsible for storing essential planning data and providing accessibility. Policy Planning evaluates state programs and policies and reports their findings to the Governor's staff. Planning Services provides planning and technical assistance to local governments.
